The Chief of Staff of the Air Force
wants to hear from you.
Your opinion matters.

Speak today, Shape tomorrow

Leadership will use your feedback to take action. Whether you're a bluesuiter or a civilian, you can have a part in making the finest Air Force in the world even better.

The Chief of Staff will use the results to improve things from the top down. Air and space power is achieved when officers, enlisted and civilians speak their mind on how the service should move forward into the 21st century.

30 minutes
